[Midland] – During National Volunteer Week, Creative 360 is one of many local non-profit organizations honoring their volunteers. Over 100 individuals who have volunteered with the organization during the past 12 months will be saluted with a Volunteer Appreciation Celebration on Monday, April 20 in the gallery at 1517 Bayliss Street. City of Midland Councilwoman Maureen Donker will give the welcome. Volunteers will be recognized for their service, and awards and door prizes distributed. Light refreshments will be served. Greta Bolger of Bolger & Battle will make a presentation about the origins of and plans for the organization's new name, announced on April 6th, and the related branding.

About National Volunteer Week

The week of April 19 is National Volunteer Week, saluting the national commitment and culture of service that has shaped America. The 2009 National Volunteer Week will include several significant recognition events locally and nationally, celebrating leaders in the field of service, including a reception on Capitol Hill honoring Senators Kennedy and Hatch for their efforts to pass the Serve America Act.

About Creative 360

Creative 360, formerly known as Creative Spirit Center, is a not-for-profit community arts and wellness organization founded in 1994. The Center's mission is to create an environment for people of all ages to experience the creative process through ongoing classes, conferences, concerts, speakers and outreach programs; and its goal is to enhance the development of physical, psychological and spiritual wellness through the arts and humanities. Printed Summer 2009 schedules showing all classes and events at Creative 360 are available at no charge. Telephone 837-1885 to have schedules delivered to your business or location, or mailed to your home.
